AT half-past one o'clock this morning the telegraph announced the death of Ex-President Millard Fillmore.

WHAT has become of the Kansas City and the Shreveport railroad schemes? That is the very suggestive question of a correspondent. And we ask what,

WE deeply regret to learn, as we do by telegraph, that Hon. Alex. Stephens, of Georgia, is still confined to his room, and dangerously sick. There is work for him yet to do, and we hope he will be spared to do it.

WE are in receipt of a copy of the first issue of the International, a journal in quarto form, devoted to the interests of the industrial classes. It is thoroughly radical, revolutionary and the original papers. Upon examination of the original papers it is found that an omission of the inclosed twenty-five names from the list of names appended communistic, is well printed, and edited with considerable ability.

EX-PRESIDENT FILLMORE, who was stricken with paralysis on the first instant, is, we regret to learn, beyond any hope of recovery. His age, being now in his seventy-fifth year, almost forbids such a hope. The people of Buffalo, of which city he has long been a resident, are greatly concerned for the safety of one who is universally beloved.

SAM BARD is happy. He has been governor, superintendent of education, preacher, editor, and the Lord knows what else, and would be postmaster. At first he offered for Chattanooga, but they would not have him there, and so he had to fall back on Atlagta, which he has afflicted for these many years. The President nominated him, and the senate confirmed him. What has At-McCrary's railroad bill points to eentralization, and the eastern papers say it should be entitled "a bill to give the railroads control of congress." Let thy flaming spirit take vengeance upon the false accuser, and consume this spirit or ruin from all of the land. This we need in the name and for the sake of him who was truth itself. Amen.

WE LEARN that, early in May, the editors of the New York State Press association will visit Birmingham, the new mountain city of Alabama, with a | the view of examining the vast mineral resources of that section of the Gulf States. Additional Papers in the Case of the Great Informer and Treasury Spy-His Commission.

What Secretary Richardson and United States District-Attorney Tenny Know About Him.

WASHINGTON, March 6. - Additional papers in the Sanborn case were laid before the house of representatives to-day, including the following letter of the secretary of the treasury:

are of foreign origin, a number of differences in spelling, etc. I cannot consent to certify them in the manner you desire, nor will it be possible for me, THEASURY DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, March 6. on account of the great labor involved in the pressure of public duties, to fur-nish you with new copies by the time you wish them. If this document will not answer your purpose, how would it do for you to indicate the particular papers desired by some mark, and, returning the document, have me then to send on the original papers in custody of some person from the department? This will save much labor and avoid the danger of differences in spelling in copying many foreign names aleady referred to. Among the papers is a summons to William A. Richardson, secretary of the treasury, or his deputy, dated January 2, 1874, from the United States district court for the eastern district of New York, commanding him to appear before the grand inquest of the United States to testify and give evidence on the seventh of January, and bring with him transcripts of all papers and records in any manner relating to and concerning the claims of John D. Sanborn, on account of any and all services rendered or purported to have been endered by said Sanborn in the collection of the legacy and succession taxes due, owing and payable upon the estates of Joseph Petit, Daniel Marsman and others. Secretary Richardson referred to the Sanborn application, March 19, 1873, for an extension of his contract, the summons to the solicitor of the happened, no doubt, by these names being written on the reverse side of one of the sheets, and in an invoice order, and the sheet being turned over by the copy-ist, without his noticing it. It is said that the owners of the New York &un newspaper have commenced an action in the supreme court against the Tribune association to recover a large amount of damages for encroaching twenty-five inches on the property of the Sun in erecting their new build ing. THE NEW ISSUE.

The Case Before the Supreme Court-Compliment to Judge Nicholson.

From the Nashville Banner. The high compliment paid to the judicial integrity of Chief-Justice Nicholson by the attorneys in the new-issue suit, has been very favorably commented upon. It is known that when, on Monday, the now celebrated new issue case, involving hundreds of thou-sands of dollars, and many grave and intricate legal questions, was called up, Chief-Justice Nicholson announced to the counsel that he had availed himself of the leisure afforded by his late confinement with a broken limb, to examine the case fully, and that he had made up an opinion which he had also the state of the late already written, but had commi to no one. He felt it to be his duty to announce the fact, that the counsel might object to his sitting in the case if they saw proper. The counsel on both sides retired for a moment to confer on the subject, and returned into court, when it was announced by Judge East that they were unanimous in their desire that the chief-justice should sit in the case, and that they were willing to trust his judgment, after full argument, even though he had made up his mind on one side or the other. This well merited recognition of indicial integrity is as rare as it tion of judicial integrity is as rare as it is comely in these disjointed times. The main question now being argued is the solidity of the new issue. The amount of this new issue is variously estimated at from five hundred thousand dollars to one million five hundred thousand dollars. Technically, the present case involves the four thousand dollars sued for, but if it is to be considered a test question, then it arises as to whether the people shall be taxed to pay it. Much proof has been taken by consent since the case went to the supreme court, and hence the record is not now the same as when tried by Chancellor Flemsame as when tried by Chancellor Fleming. The attorney-general, W. B. Heiskell, represents the State. Hon. E. H. East represents the bank. John Frizzell represents the special school fund. Judge Humphreys represents the creditors. John Reid represents the depositors. Ed. Baxter represents the new-issue men. The case will be argued for the next three days, and will in all probability not be decided before Saturday after next.

The New York Herald says it is reported that a sub-committee of banking and currency in the house of representatives has discovered that certain officers of the Ocean national bank, by collusion with certain parties in Wall street, made the necessary arrange-ments for having the bank closed up at a particular time, and that the arrange-ments were perfected months previous to the time the bank really closed.

A dispatch from Buffalo, New York, late last night, reported that Ex-President Filmore spent a very restless night. He was decidedly worse Saturday, and yesterday and last night there was no perceptible improvement.

Robert Manning was convicted in San Francisco, Saturday, of killing a Chinaman some time ago, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for life.
